Need of Increase Explained

Consumption rates of Janesville's water department must be increased beyond the present basic rate of $1.75 per 1,000 cubic feet if the plant is to operate as a municipally owned public utility should be declared. President S. Haggart, president of the water works board, in a statement issued Wednesday night. The board has been studying the situation carefully since that body's creation six months ago and has come to recognize that unless the rates are increased, and other changes are made, the plant will soon be unable to meet its interest charges, let alone paying anything into its sinking fund to pay off the funded debt.

The utility last year showed net profit of only 4.6 per cent where it should have shown a profit of nearer 6.5 per cent if it were operating as a prosperous, going, municipally owned institution making a reasonable return on operating expenses, normal growth, depreciation, and sinking fund, Mr. Haggart declared.

Rates Same for Nine Years

When the city took over the plant from private ownership in 1915, the basic rate was at once cut from $2.50 per thousand cubic feet to $1.75. Since then the rates have remained unchanged, excepting operating costs have practically doubled and although the revenue has increased it has not been in proportion to the great increase in operation and plant value.

"The city's profit on its new investment of $233,430.93 in the water plant in 1922 was only eight-tenths of one percent after paying interest on bonds," said President Haggart, calling attention to figures in a detailed report on the plant's operations submitted by C. A. Seifert, Madison, who is now in the city, having just completed his ninth annual audit of the water department's books.

Haggart Explains Conditions

In making public the need for more revenue, it was declared by Mr. Haggart that the present situation is the outgrowth of conditions extending over a period of several years, and that it casts no reflection on the management of the department. On the contrary, he has nothing but words of praise for the work of Manager H. A. Griffey.

"My attention was first called to the condition when the annual report for 1922 was submitted to the water board," continued the president. "It had been in the habit of doing over reports of privately owned utilities where the interest charge is usually more than twice the interest charges, or, in some instances, one and three-quarters times this amount."

"But in our water department, gross income exceeded the interest charges by only 25 per cent when it should be nearly 50 percent."

"We do not expect a municipally owned utility to show as great an income as one privately owned, it should at least be $15,000 to $20,000 in excess of its interest charges."

Taken Up with Councilmen

The matter is considered by the water board as so important as to require the attention of the council

BLAINE BILL
ACTION NEXT WEDNESDAY

Madison—When Governor Blaine's tax bill was reached on the Senate calendar, Thursday, amendments were almost completely isolated. The measure then made a special order of business for next Wednesday. There was no attempt to force immediate consideration. Six amendments were offered from the floor, four of them by senators.

APPLICANTS EXAMINED.

William Lemke, examiner for the Chicago office of the United States department of labor, was in Janesville Wednesday, conducting a preliminary examination of applicants for naturalization papers which will be heard in June.

16 CREMATED IN TERRIFIC
OIL WELL BLAST AND FIRE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Corsicana, Tex.—Thirteen identified bodies, three skeletons smouldering in a lake of burning oil about 300 feet in circumference, and possibly a score of others, fated to be uncovered momentarily, tell a tale of tragedy wrought by the explosion of the giant gusher of the J. K. Hughes Development company (McKie No. 1 well). The fire can be seen for 50 miles around, reports here indicate. The black smoke clouds extend here 11 miles from the scene of the fire.

The producer, which came in late Tuesday, flowing 15,000 barrels of pipeline oil a veritable funeral pyre. Charred, twisted, mangled bodies remain while the well burns, consuming the complete flow.

When the blast came, it is known, of the 50 or more men in the two crews and a connecting gang were sucked into the sheet of flames.

Elliott Hammell, drilling contractor, E. W. Quinlan, Scott and James Meeks, Scouts for the Nubile Oil company, and others aided in rescue work.

Quinlan, passed overseas, endangering his health by inhaling smoke while aiding in rescue work.

About 500 people, watching the work of the drilling crews, gave account of the flame, none being certain how the fire started, but all testified to the huge column of smoke which rose, filled and hid the oil-soaked derrick.

Some of the workmen were buried flat on the ground, others vainly attempted to escape from the spread of the fire.

L. C. Coch, head driller of one of the crews, was seen to dash away.

Madison—The anti-prohibition forces in the senate, expecting defeat of the Sachtjen bill restricting the search and seizure clause of the Severson prohibition enforcement law, have introduced a substitute amendment much less stringent in its provisions, according to Senator Theodore Benfrey, author of the substitute.

He says his measure is satisfactory to Assemblyman Sachtjen, who introduced the original bill with the substitution of Governor Blaine.

The teams followed Brodhead, first, at 1,491.17; Janesville, second, 1,475.86; Whitewater, third, 1,477.15; Delavan, fourth, 1,475.53; Edgerton, fifth, 1,476.27; Beloit, sixth, 1,474.40; Clinton, seventh, 1,484.65; Delavan, eighth, 1,484.74.

Dr. Thuerer followed their totals as follows: Brodhead, first, 1,491.17; Janesville, second,

Whitewater, third, 1,475.86; Delavan, fourth, 1,477.15; Edgerton, fifth, 1,475.53; Beloit, sixth, 1,474.40; Clinton, seventh, 1,484.65; Delavan, eighth, 1,484.74.

Dr. Thuerer is preparing statements to be sent out to eight lodges giving the individual standings.

Judges were E. A. Reddeman, Henry Case, Rev. Arthur H. Lord, William T. Butzke, and Robert H. Grobe, all of Milwaukee. One hundred and sixty men entered, 20 to a team, with Dr. Thuerer leading the local team.

The competition has been taking part in these contests for the past eight years. The winner of a cup for three successive years is entitled to permanent ownership. Brodhead, already, has one cup won several years ago. The contest next year will be held at Delavan.

ANTWERP TIED UP BY STRIKE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Antwerp, Belgium, was almost completely isolated Thursday by a strike of the postal, telegraph, telephone and the railroad employees. The situation is assuming grave proportions and transportation of coal and coke has stopped.

Reports reaching here excited fears that the strike might spread to Brussels and other big centers and the government is discussing the militarization of the services affected.

The civil unions are preparing to mobilize workers to take the strikers' places.

London.—The British warship Harewell has been ordered to the Murman coast to prevent further Soviet interference with British vessels outside the three mile limit, and to use force if necessary in performing this mission, the house of commons was informed Thursday by the under secretary of state for foreign affairs, Ronald Pinger.

A private message to Success in the negotiations to ransom the foreigners held captive by Chinese bandits in the mountain fastness of Shantung, was indicated Thursday, when a dispatch from Peking announced the release of Roland Pinger, Jr. and Robert Jr., sons of Majors Pinger and Allen, U. S. A. The officers were still held, at latest official advice.

A private message to Tao Gavang, recently in Shanghai by the American Development company, reported that all but one of the foreign captives had been released. The one still held was said to be Chevalier Musso, Italian attorney of Shanghai. A previous report had said that the brigands were holding Musso for $1,000,000 and that he was very ill.

Advised received in Tsingtao indicated the captives would be released Thursday. Early in the day

Chen, learning that B. P. Yau,

An American newspaper man, one of the prisoners, had contrived to have smuggled out a message saying they face "dire consequences" unless troops surrounding the bandit stronghold were withdrawn.

PEKING ORDERS ATTACK

CHURCH ENDS CONCLAVE
WITHOUT CHANGING CREED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Moscow.—The All-Russian church concluded its sessions Wednesday night with an impressive religious service in the cathedral. The delegates adjourned without making any changes in doctrine and the clergymen of the various factions seemed to be as widely divided in their views as before the sessions opened.

The net result was the so-called upholding of Dr. Tikhon, the former patriarch, and elevation of Archbishop Vedenky.

The Metropolitan Antonin said that Dr. Tikhon's refusal to recognize the concave's action would have no effect; likewise, the delegates need have no fear of the former patriarch's threatened appeal to Constantine.

SONS OF AMERICAN
OFFICERS RELEASED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Peking.—Major Roland Pinger and Robert Allen, U. S. A., who were captured by Chinese bandits Sunday, are still held, but their sons, Roland, Jr. and Robert, Jr., have been released according to the latest official information. Neither of the sons has been released, it is understood. Late this afternoon Peking had not heard the expected word of the release of either officer.

Few men on the bench have been held longer than Dr. Edward Lyon, Judge of Northwestern University, who was held by revolutionaries from the bench and released by revolutionaries to him.

SHORTHORN TEST RECORDS

Having 22 quality cows that produced 40 pounds of butter-fat or more in a month, seven of which produced more than 50 pounds, the Rock County Milking Shorthorn Cow Testing Association continues to set high production marks.

Clarabelle, a six-year-old pure bred, owned by Arshle Wentworth, led the association for April, making 61 pounds of fat from 1005 pounds of milk. Clarabelle the Second continues to run high and if her owner, Robert Traynor, can continue to milk this cow in high production, the animal will set a new mark for you. A year-old, three-month-old Clarabelle produced 53.4 pounds in the fourth month is credited with 54.9 pounds. Sunshine End, owned by George Wenham and Sons, is in second place with 53.9 pounds. The herd of George Wenham and Sons, Elmwood, continues to run high in averages, the 12 cows in milk averaging 52.8 pounds. Elmwood has high herd averages for five months.

Three animals in the Elm herd show the decided advantages of construction breeding. Dorothy End, an eight year old cow, has a testing mark of 5.00, while her two daughters, Clarabelle the First and Clarabelle the Second, both produced 53.4 pounds of fat from 1005 pounds of milk.

Fancy, a pure bred, freshened January 15, 1922, with her first calf, and milked straight for 17 months producing 5.162 pounds of 3.95 per cent milk on 277 pounds of fat in the half year period. Dorothy Maid, a three year old heifer, produced 2.941 pounds of 3.8 milk or 19.1 pounds of fat in three months.

Cow testing work among Shorthorns in Rock county will go a long way in settling the question of whether a dual-purpose animal can be particularly good for the dairy and the market.

Persistent production is a point which the Huddards pay special attention to developing.

Fancy, a pure bred, freshened January 15, 1922, with her first calf, and milked straight for 17 months producing 5.162 pounds of 3.95 per cent milk on 277 pounds of fat in the half year period. Dorothy Maid, a three year old heifer, produced 2.941 pounds of 3.8 milk or 19.1 pounds of fat in three months.

The herd of Harry Little with 20 cows, average 3.5 years in age, and the test records show an average monthly production of 523 pounds of 3.99 per cent milk and 20.2 pounds of fat.

Ruth, a year-old, a junior two-year-old in the association, freshened January 15, 1922, and in nine months and 10 days is credited with 5.117 pounds of fat and 12.6 pounds of fat.

Ida Second, in the Payne and Brown herd produced 5.752 pounds of 4.37 per cent milk or 23.0 pounds of fat.

One of the Champion Rose heifers in the Little herd a four-year-old, produced 3.115 pounds of 4.4 per cent milk or 12.7 pounds of fat in three months.

In the Grand Howard herd are a number of grades and pure breeds setting good records.

A grade cow has a record of 4.584 pounds of 3.97 per cent milk and 2.70 pounds of fat in four months and in the last month tested 4.67 pounds of fat.

A pure bred, Marcella Samson, in five months and 18 days is credited with 4.478 pounds of 4.6 per cent milk or 19.5 pounds of fat.

Spot, a year-old, freshened April 15, 1922, after 1059 pounds, 3.85 per cent milk or 15.2 pounds of fat in five months. This cow was fresh October 3, 1922, and test made starting December 1, 1922.

The herd records will be explained at the state plante to be held on June 15, 1923, in Milwaukee, on June 16.

The county association will meet during the coming week to make arrangements for the picnic. The picnic committee will seek to pick animals representative of the herds in the county that will show both production abilities and food distribution. The picnic will be held Saturday, June 17, 1923, at the Forest Park, Chicago, and Ray Cook, Independence, Iowa, are expected to attend the picnic.

Wisconsin and Michigan are expected and a number from Minnesota, Iowa, and Kansas have signified their intention to attend.

STANDARD GRADES FOR BADGER EGGS SET BY DEPARTMENT

Standard grades for Wisconsin eggs were adopted by the state department of markets, effective June 15.

"Wisconsin Eggs—Grade Extra" and "Wisconsin Eggs—Current Receipts" are the two classifications provided. Every case or dozen carton of "extras" and every case of "current receipts" is required to be labeled as such.

Marketing and labeling according to grade, however, are not made compulsory. Sellers may sell and ship ungraded and unlabelled eggs, but if the eggs are graded and labeled they must conform to the requirements of the statute or criminal penalty ensues, the department says.

"Extras" are required, unless otherwise specified, to be marketed in 20 dozen cartons and are to be defined to be "large," clean, strictly fresh eggs, well cleaned and free from rots within the meaning of the dairy and food laws; weight not less than 42 pounds per 50 dozen case."

Wisconsin poultry and eggs were valued in 1921 at $29,480,000, which is more than the Badger state's beef cattle, 20 per cent greater than the value of its potatoes, and four times as much as its tobacco.

Poultry and eggs amounted to 18 per cent of all "animal products" in Wisconsin in 1921.

Over 167,000 cases of Wisconsin eggs were shipped to Milwaukee in 1921 and 56,842 cases to Chicago.

Paving in 2 Weeks

With the completion of the concrete base for paving on North First street, between North Bluff and North Wisconsin streets, by Hayes-Fountain-Hayes, there will be no further activity in the work for at least two weeks and possibly three. The length of time will be necessary for the concrete to cure sufficiently for putting on the surface of two inches of granite spread with asphalt. This will give a pavement similar to that on Forest Park boulevard. The concrete base is six inches thick, with a rough surface to provide a good grip for the top layer. The cost of the two-block job is $6,800.

BELoit ROAD CRASH CAVALRY TROOP AT IS CAUSE OF SUIT END OF SERVICE

Prepare to Ship Equipment to Camp Douglas, Saturday.

George De Bruin, Janesville, has started suit in Rock county municipal court here against Fred C. Schumacher, Beloit, for $200 damages the result of an automobile collision on the Janesville-Beloit concrete highway April 22, Schumacher has filed a reply, claiming $100 damages from the plaintiff.

The plaintiff blames Schumacher for the collision, claiming he was driving carelessly and went off the road on the side of the road. The opposite was true, the reply says, except that it is claimed De Bruin was driving 35 miles an hour.

Paul Grubb represents De Bruin, while El W. Adams, Beloit is the defendant's attorney. No date has been set for trial.

NICKEL'S PLACE RAIDED, FIND PINT

Another Former Saloon Visited by Police—Owner Arrested.

Adolph Nickel, proprietor of what was once a saloon at 51 South River street, was arrested at the direction of Chief Charles Newman following a police raid made on his establishment late Wednesday afternoon. One pint of alleged moonshine was confiscated in a back room the chief said.

Nickel asked for an examination which was arranged in municipal court on a liquor possession charge and it was set for 30 a.m. Saturday. Judge H. L. Maxfield fixed his bail at $1,000 and it was furnished. Nickel's place was raided 10 days ago but nothing was found at that time.

Chiefly because of the raid, the chief said, the police received a call from a man who said he had been drinking at Nickel's place and was being harassed by the police.

She was so sensitive she never could impress people with the personality she really had.

SHE was never really herself. She never did herself justice in a crowd. She wanted to be the center of things and she was clever enough to have been. Yet she lacked that sense of self-confidence—the voice that is so often the difference between popularity and social obscurity.

She did everything she could to overcome this uncomfortable feeling. She studied her clothes, her toilet, her speech. Yet it didn't help.

At last she discovered that it was her teeth she had unknowingly been most self-conscious about. Fastidious about everything else, she had neglected her teeth somewhat and their appearance showed it. You may be sure she did not neglect them after her discovery.

Only the right dentifrice—consistently used—will protect you against such criticism. Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. The first tube you buy (25 cents) or the free sample (see coupon) will prove this to you.

You will notice the improvement even in the first few days. And, moreover, just as Listerine is the safe antiseptic, so Listerine Tooth Paste is the safe dentifrice. It cleans yet it cannot injure the enamel.

What are your teeth saying about you today?

Three Theaters Book New Films

Film American production starring Peter Arno, continental star, which is due at the Majestic theater for at least five days, starting Saturday at 10 a.m., is attracting the most attention in theatrical circles for the week-end. "Della Donna" is said to be on a par with "Adam's Rib" and similar pictures, for elaborateness and beauty, and in it Miss Negri is said to do much better work than she did in Europe. "One Wonderful Night," starring Herbert Rawlinson, 10 p.m. at that theater Thursday and Friday.

"The Voice from the Minaret" will have its last showings at the Apollo theater Thursday night, and Friday will start vaudeville and "Sixty Cents an Hour," a new Paramount comedy, starring Walter Hiers, supported by Jacqueline Logan. "The Voice from the Minaret," Norma Talmadge and George O'Brien in a story of love in Egypt and India.

"Bob Hampton of Place" is awaited with eagerness because of its galaxy of stars and its promised interesting story. It opens at the Beverly Thursday. "Fury" having closed there Wednesday night. James Kirkwood, Wesley Barry, Marjorie Daw, Noah Beery and others are in the production, the story of which is continued with "Castor" last stand. It will return through Saturday, together with "Comedy and another episode of Haunted Valley," starring Ruth Roland.

Mr. Gardner Talks at Lions' Luncheon

Dr. Boyd Gardner head of the dental department of the Mayo clinic of Rochester, Minn., was the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Lions club Wednesday, talking on the origin and development of the clinic. He particularly stressed the fact that the surgical work was open without charge to observation and study of any practitioner.

Dr. Gardner's talk was preceded by vocal solos by Dr. S. F. Richards, with Mrs. Richards playing accompaniment.

Many guests were present, particularly physicians and dentists of Jacksonville.

Enthusiasm was stirred for a 100 percent attendance of Janesville Lions at the state convention at Madison next Tuesday and Wednesday.

More than $1,000 was realized for the memorial tablet fund through presentation of the Taylor Holmes show, "The Rear Car," W. E. Hyzer, treasurer, reported. But a few returns remain to be turned in, and several small bills are all that are outstanding.

TRAINING SCHOOL TO INSPECT COURT HOUSE RECORDS

Pupils of the Rock county training school will visit the court house next week to examine the records and see how they are kept, as a result of an invitation extended by Register of Deeds F. P. Smiley at the close of a talk at the training school, Wednesday.

Mr. Smiley presented the history of Rock county and the work of the register, explaining that the first election was held in 1829 and the present court house was built in 1880 to replace the one destroyed by fire.

To show how indefinite the early conveyances were, Mr. Smiley read a copy of one. These early conveyances were made by federal government patents.

The register told the process of filing records of deeds, mortgages, plats, marriages and deaths. He gave the legal terms connected with the work of his office and told of the different kinds of deeds.

WOMAN HURT IN FALL DOWN STAIRS

Mrs. Charles Blanks sustained a severe cut in the back of her head, and was badly shaken, and bruised, Tuesday night, when she fell down the basement stairs at the home of Mrs. Florence Hyde, 229 East Milwaukee street, where she was rooming temporarily, and assisting with the housework. No other members of the family were at home. The injured woman succeeded in crawling upstairs and to the living room, where her son, Jocelyn and daughter, Leon and Gertie, who live across the street, Dr. G. W. Phillips attended the injuries and arrangements were made to take Mrs. Blanks to the county hospital later in the evening. It is not thought her condition is serious. Her daughter, Miss Laura Blanks, a worker in the Salvation Army at Oshkosh, has been notified.

BOOST NEED SHOWN BY THESE FIGURES

The following figures have been compiled from the report of audit submitted by C. A. Seifert, business analyst and counselor of Madison, to the Board of water commissioners, and compare the earning value of the plant from 1915 to 1922, inclusive.
Gross revenues	$51,060.76	1916	$50,631.12	1917	$50,649.74	1918	$50,522.75	1919	$50,522.75
Operating expenses	11,189.30	12,627.52	12,627.52	12,627.52	12,627.52	12,627.52	12,627.52	12,627.52	12,627.52
Depreciation	4,196.52	4,496.32	4,811.70	5,234.47	5,684.94	6,127.53	6,584.71	7,032.70	7,572.10
Taxes	2,699.94	3,076.59	3,385.14	3,717.53	4,030.71	4,345.14	4,655.85	5,000.31	5,354.15
Total expenses	16,885.76	21,200.55	26,350.57	29,813.84	34,581.78	41,294.63	46,996.64	51,999.24	57,522.75

Interest & sinking fund	14,140.81	16,395.72	16,178.95	15,845.50	15,928.19	23,320.61	20,335.31	15,928.19	23,320.61
Net profit	18,535.20	71,835.15	14,111.30	11,662.32	3,034.84	5,119.13	4,924.56	3,034.84	5,119.13
Plant value	292,032.60	318,492.86	287,701.25	349,192.25	464,385.60	604,000.93	593,560.11	464,385.60	604,000.93

As pointed out by Mr. Seifert, it will be seen from the above figures that the gross income of the city water department has dropped to $27,305.20 in 1922 on a plant value of $593,560.11. This means that the gross income has dropped to 4 1/2 percent.

The greatest drop appears from 1919-20, says Mr. Seifert. "Since 1919 the plant has increased in value amounting to $244,667.86. The original price paid by the city in 1915 was $266,500. This means that the plant value was doubled during the last three years, but revenue has not increased in the same proportion as shown above.

Water is operating as a going, municipally owned plant, making allowance for ordinary operating expenses, depreciation and taxes, a earning should be shown of about

WATER RATES
MAY BE RAISED

(Continuing from Page 1) and it was gone over fully with public works committee of that body at a three-hour session last week. The committee will decide the full import of the problem and no doubt an application will be made to the railroad commission at an early date for an increase in rates.

Those who attended the conference were: President Haggard, A. Kemmerer, Amos Rehberg, of the water board; President E. K. Jensen, A. J. O'Neil, of the Star Atwood of the city council; Manager Griffey of the water department; and Mr. Seifert, auditor.

Raise in Question

What the raise will be is a matter which will have to be gone into more thoroughly, but the present proposal is to have a service charge, the same as other public utilities. That is, the service charge might be $1.75 per quarter and any amount of water used would then be added to this service charge. As the rates are now, the $1.75 per quarter covers any amount of water used in 1,000 cubic feet. Only the consumer uses more than 1,000 feet has to pay more than $1.75.

This proposal, however, is only tentative and an entirely different plan maybe possible. The only idea is to hit upon some fair and equitable way to increase the revenues without putting the added burden on any one class or group of consumers.

GAZETTE PLATFORM FOR 1923.

Continuous effort to secure for Janesville a modern hotel so that this city may take care of many conventions as well as the traveling public.

Making the Rock River park in every way a delightful playground for the people of the city. Building tennis courts and outdoor sports places, bathing beaches and all the necessary arrangements for making the park a popular recreation place for all.

Clean out the backwaters and blind tigers and enforce the laws.

Establishment of a real estate mortgage company to help in the building of homes more easily accomplished.

Additional room in the post office by building an annex.

Arranging a sand building program so that the town and taxpayer will be the greatest beneficiary.

Traffic regulations that will reduce recklessness and the number of deaths from auto accidents.

Build a new and larger and better Y. M. C. A. building in care for the constantly increasing need by reason of the influx of new residents.

Taking a Walk as a Recreation.

With the coming of the automobile, walking except by those too poor to own or without the desire to possess a motor car, has almost ceased to be an exercise. Once we had walkers—scenarians and officials walked to the national capitol and presidents took hikes. Business men, downtown in New York or Chicago, contemplating a day tied up in a close office or store, walked to get practically the only exercise out of doors available for them. But it got entirely out of fashion. Janesville, Madison, and Milwaukee, or in any other city of Wisconsin one could formerly see groups and pairs of men walking to shop, factory, or office. No longer is it true. In Kansas City lately a globe trotter has organized walking clubs. Saturday afternoon last, 1,000 started on a hike and another thousand were found waiting in a large park of the city.

But this is not the way to walk—you can walk alone if you can find no one to accompany you. It is not necessary to attempt to break O'Leary's record. Hike and see. It's a good game. There are a thousand hidden things to look at if you have the time to investigate, from an ant hill to naming plants and trees. But walking, even though but a few blocks to and from the office is a good game to play.

Eventually the American people will have no use for legs at all.

New York used to be noted for many manufacturers. Now it is the greatest rum running city in the world.

Not the Methodist Voice

A bishop of the Methodist church went to Russia to attend a conclave of the new church established by the soviet and made this enthusiastic comment on Russia under the soviet:

For the first time in human history a great nation is dedicating itself to do good for the masses of humanity and is striving to attain everything God-given for man.

But the board of bishops of the church has sent a recall to Bishop Blake and refused further participation in the All-Russian conclave. "Bishop Blake may express his personal opinions but he cannot represent the church as having the opinions he has expressed," is the burden of the statement in the recall.

In the same day comes news from Riga of the church conditions in Russia. The correspondent said:

All over the country churches and synagogues have been seized by the communist youths. Official figures show that of the fifty-one revolutionary tribunals canvassed, forty-four have put to death six citizens, have sentenced thirty-one to imprisonment ranging from one year to life, and have condemned more than four hundred others to various shorter prison terms for participating with priests in that all-embracing term "counter revolution," or treason.

Churches are rotting to ruin. Although they are popular idols still, priests are dead or in jail. Church treasures are gone. That is one side, one phase of the religious war. Yet, the same government that shoots priests after trying them—reversing the order previously in fashion—has created a church of its own—supposedly an Independent Living church, which is encouraged in religious activities.

Americans have cherished the belief that they were building a nation dedicated to bringing the greatest good to the greatest number, and that they were striving to attain everything God-given for man. They have been conscious of their shortcomings. But they have felt that in the standards of living here established the great democratic experiment has not failed.

Yet Bishop Blake finds such idealism only in soviet Russia. If that is his feeling, surely he does not rightly represent in Europe the splendid American denomination to which he belongs.

Mr. Rehms appears to be able to furnish reams of writing.

There Are Plenty of "Greatest"

As a matter of record and current history it may be said that these 12 women have been selected by The National League of Women voters as the greatest living American women:

Jane Addams, philanthropist; Cecilia Beaux, painter; Carrie Chapman Catt, politics; Anna Bostford Comstock, natural historian; Minnie Maddern Fiske, actress; Louise Homer, singer; Julia Lathrop, child welfare; Florence Rena Sabine, anatomist; M. Carey Thomas, educator; Martha Van Rensselaer, home economics; Edith

CHANGING NATURE

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—"Men may come and men may go but I go on forever," said Lord Tennyson concerning the brook and usually it is considered that the flow of streams is a matter entirely within the control of the deities and wholly outside the influence of man. The rapidly developing science of meteorology is taking some of the mystery out of the work of the river gods and showing that rivers can be made to explain their moods and changes.

A recent investigation by the United States Weather Bureau concerning the lowering of the Kansas river channel at Topeka, Kansas, is an interesting case in point. In recent years the citizens of Topeka and the surrounding country, which has an interest in the Kansas river, have been somewhat alarmed at the falling of the stream. Study revealed that the river has fallen a foot in the last five years and more than three feet in the last eighteen years. Science was called in to learn the cause of the lowering of the river.

The natural assumption was that reduced rainfall in the basin of the Kansas river must be responsible. This was thoroughly studied and the facts revealed showed that no such cause was to be blamed. It was discovered that man and not the elements were responsible for the lowering of the river. The investigation showed conclusively that the coming and going of men, contrary to the dictum of Lord Tennyson, did influence the river.

The bed of the river is composed of a very high grade of sand. For a long time since 200,000 cubic yards of this sand have been removed each year for building purposes. The excavation of the river bottom to obtain this sand has changed the shape of the bed of the river to such an extent that the flow of water has been altered and has resulted in lower stages each year. It had long been considered that the relatively puny efforts of mankind could have no effect whatever on a great river, but the government's investigation shows that the cumulative effect of altering the shape of the river bed has caused an important change in the stream itself. No doubt, as a result of the inquiry, the state government requires the sand diggers either to get their sand somewhere else or to take it from the river in some way which will not interfere with the use of the stream for navigation.

A curious contrast to the experience at the Kansas river is that in connection with the Chicago river. This was one of the most extraordinary engineering feats ever accomplished. It was proposed to connect the Chicago river, which ended into Lake Michigan, with the Illinois and eventually the Mississippi river. This would mean that the waters of Lake Michigan would not only flow east, down through the series of the Great Lakes and out the St. Lawrence into the Atlantic ocean, but also would flow south through the Chicago river to the Mississippi and then down to the Gulf of Mexico. There was very spirited objection to the plan. Some scientists declared that to start a river running out of Lake Michigan would lower the level of the lake and ultimately drain it, leaving Chicago no longer a great lake port but high and dry in the interior.

Other better informed scientists said that the drainage would have no such effect. The controversy raged for some time but finally the river was cut through. Careful measurements show that instead of running off through the Chicago river, the level of Lake Michigan has been raised higher in the years since the channel was cut. This is believed to be due to the cutting of forests on the shores of the lake and the banks of the rivers which flow into it. The forests, when they were standing, absorbed a tremendous amount of moisture. Since they have been cut for lumber, this moisture drains into the lake and more than compensates for any drainage out through the Chicago river.

Many people wonder why the Mediterranean sea does not overflow. A torrent of water flows into it, through the Pillars of Hercules, from the Atlantic ocean. Another torrent empties into it from the Black sea through the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles. The Nile empties into this inland sea, the Rhone and a thousand minor streams. Yet the level stays below the level of the Atlantic, despite the fact that there is no outlet. The reason, of course, is that evaporation, the invisible process of lifting moisture into the heavens, takes the water out as fast as the great visible currents can bring it in. The rush of water ascending to the skies all around us, though invisible, is greater than many Niagara's.

Another interesting investigation recently made by the weather bureau concerns the great floods of the Amazon river in South America. In recent years floods of tremendous volume have swept down and inundated the banks of this greatest of streams. Here again, it was first thought that heavy rains were responsible for the flood stages but a patient study of precipitation in the interior exploded this theory.

The mouth of the Amazon form a delta, many separate streams emptying into the sea. The investigation has shown that these channels at some seasons fill up with sediment, clogging the passage of the waters. Great trees falling into the river become waterlogged and heavy and, by the time they reach the delta will be nearly all submerged. Their protruding branches will stick in the mud and sand of the bottom and hold them stationary. Other logs will come floating down the stream and a log jam results beneath the surface. Silt and sand drifting down in the current will come to rest against these logs and automatically make dams. When the spring floods come they may rise over these obstructions which are now regarded as the cause of the unusually high water noted in recent years. It is believed that it might be possible to dynamite some of these natural dams and let the current carry the fragments out to sea.

Sometimes, portions of these masses of logs and earth will break away and float down the river. Grasses and other vegetation get a foothold on them and give them the appearance of islands. Many legends concerning magic floating islands which one day will be in a certain place and the next day will have disappeared now are attributed to these floating parts of the natural dams. The current and the tides carry them about like drifting boats on the broad waters of the delta and it is not difficult to understand how the natives would ascribe supernatural origins to these curious phenomena. It is three days' sail across the largest mouth of the Amazon and the current and the tides will move floating objects from place to place in strange courses.

The committee was wise in making the report to say that it was "humanly impossible" to select the 12 greatest women of the nation. It will at once start a discussion as to whether in reality the 12 are or are not the greatest and it may be several generations before the controversy dies out. In attempts of this kind no decision ever made can be or will be final so far as the public is concerned.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

May 10, 1903.—Several doctors have examined Michael Elson, being held at Madison pending his trial for the murder of his wife and Mrs. Ahern, and they are of the opinion that he is of sound mind. He is to stand insanity at his trial. The electric current was turned on to day in the Boston Ice Cream Factory.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

BLESSINGS

By the blue that bends above us,
By the smiling friends who love us,
By the laughter of a baby
And the babbling of a brook;
By the glad Junes with pink roses,
And the happy days which close
With the prayers of little children
Everywhere God turns to look.
We are blessed in countless ways
Through the number of our days.

By the hope which gilds tomorrow,
By the faith which sweetens sorrow,
By the beauty all around us

When the dawn of day is fair;

By the health which God hath lent us
For the body for which we sent us,

We are richly compensated;

For the burden we must bear;

And though tears of grief may fall,
God has blessed us, one and all.

By the glad smile of a neighbor,
By the joy of honest labor,

By the singing of the kettle

And the home where we may rest;

By the true friend standing by us

Through the hours when burdens try us

By uncounted little pleasures

All the time we are really blessed;

Never year nor day nor minute

But holds something lovely in it.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

BY ROY K. MOULTON

FROM OUR PARIS CORRESPONDENT.

Paris, April 9.—Ladies and gentlemen who like to speed your automobiles, how would you like to live in a city where there are no speed laws?

Paris has no speed laws but—and it is a big but—if you hit anything you are in great trouble. I have seen a car go up the Champs Elysees at a rate of speed which would make a dead motorcycle "cop" come to life.

When there happens to be an accident and that is quite frequent, both drivers call each other names but they never go so far as to really insult each other. You may call a man "chameau," "panier," "poule," "couteau," anything that is mashed, "carron," "small," "goujat," "amet," but you have no right to insult him.

The policeman comes up and modestly takes down the names, etc. He is mild and polite. This might be imitated by some of those "big guys" who regulate traffic in this country.

What would happen to one if one called one of those taxi-chuffeuses in New York a snail? That is provided one were smaller than the chauffeur.

Man threw a brick through a shoe-store window so he would be sent back to jail, from which place he had just been discharged. It is pretty hard to make a living on the outside these days.

SETTING THINGS RIGHT.

Insurance company in New York has recently received the following answers from applicants for policies:

Grandfather died suddenly at the age of 103.

Up to this time he bid fair to reach a ripe old age.

Applicant does not know anything about maternal posterity except that she died at an advanced age.

Applicant does not know cause of mother's death.

Applicant's son has recovered from his last illness.

Applicant has never been fatally sick.

Father died suddenly; nothing serious.

Applicant's brother, who was an infant, died when he was a mere child.

Grandfather died from gunshot wound caused by an arrow shot by an Indian.

Applicant's paternal parents died when he was a child.

Mother's last illness was caused from chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death.

Who's Who Today

JOSEPH CONRAD

The life story of Joseph Conrad, "seafaring novelist" who has just come to America, is a fascinating romance in itself.

Conrad has been called by English literary critics "the only man in England today who belongs to the immortal company of Meredith, Hardy and Henry James." He has been referred to as "the greatest living writer of contemporary English letters." And this man, now heralded as one of the greatest authors of the day, began life as the son of a political exile in Poland.

Conrad's father was Apollo Korzeniowski.

When Joseph was five years old the Russian government banished the older Conrad to Vologda.

Joseph and his mother fled to Vologda too, to be with the father.

The ill-fated Polish rebellion came.

LATEST MARKET REPORTGRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago.—Price upturns which took place in the wheat market this week, during the early part of the day, were due to the court's decision adverse to suitors of future delivery transactions in suit. Wheat was held bullishly in early trading, with advances in prices here, however, selling increased and a reaction ensued which limited the gains. Opening purchases, which ran higher with July 1, 1924, at \$1.15 $\frac{1}{2}$, and Sept. 1, 1924, at \$1.17 $\frac{1}{2}$, were followed by numerous sales to about the same as Thursday's finish.

Wheat turned weak Thursday in sympathy with the stock market. Closing quotations were unsettled, with July 1, 1924, at \$1.15 $\frac{1}{2}$ and Sept. 1, 1924, at \$1.16.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. After opening higher, the market underwent a slight decline.

More aggressive buying was witnessed in the last half of the day, and the market acted heavy. The close was unsettled, with July 1, 1924, at \$1.15 $\frac{1}{2}$ and Sept. 1, 1924, at \$1.16.

Oats started unchanged to the high of July 1, 1924, and later showed a slight downturn.

Provisions lacked support.

16 CREMATED IN TERRIFIC BLAST AT TEXAS OIL WELL

spout of fire in the East Navarro field, north central, was an eye witness to the blast which killed 16 workers to a cap. A company of 160 persons was on the derrick floor but escaped by running. He said the men were engaged in taking off the control head and putting on a gate valve when gas blew the valve up a bit and it fell back out of line. They were trying to adjust it; about five men, including the operator, were at the bottom of the derrick.

"I was standing on the derrick floor, handing waste to the workers to wipe out their eyes, as the oil was spewing from the valve," Mr. Simonds said.

"When the valve fell back, I saw a tiny spark caused by friction of the metals striking, and sending distance I ran from the well pit at the time.

Two Yank Golfers Still Going - Blues in Meet Saturday

Copyright 1920, by Geo. McManus

OUIMET, WILLING ONLY U. S. STARS IN FIFTH ROUND

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deal—Two American visitors and one American resident of England were left with 13 Britons on the team for the British amateur golf title after the fourth round Thursday morning. Francis Ouimet of Boston, Dr. C. F. Willing of Fort Worth, Tex., and Charles O'Connell of San Francisco won their fourth round matches, but George V. Rotan of Houston, Tex., and John F. Neville of San Francisco, were eliminated. Neville losing to Ouimet.

Ouimet Is Best Bet

Francis Ouimet is the most probable chance of the Yanks to win the title. He will be 20 years old in the spring when he begins in 1933, when 20 years of age, he turned back Vardon and lay at Brooklin in 1913. Dr. Willing is considered a dark horse, but he has been doing work that is marking him as a possibility.

Ouimet and Willing have been winning their matches with comparative ease. Willing studies every shot with greatest care.

Dr. Willing defeated R. W. Crummock of Lancashire 2 and 1.

Thursday afternoon in the fifth round Roger Wethered, Oxford star, was one up on Willing at the ninth hole and C. Bretherton of Huddersfield was two up on Ouimet.

In the afternoon round Douglas Grand played in the South of Port Macquarie. Rain fell during the luncheon interval and the wind was strong from the northwest as the players teed off.

WISCONSIN GIRL BEST ALL AROUND

Chicago—Miss Gladys Jones of Eagle River, Wis., Thursday was awarded first honors in competition of all around outdoor girls at the national outdoor life exposition. She, in the judgment of the judges, can outrun and outfish any of her rivals. Incidentally, Miss Jones loves the northern Wisconsin country and declared she would not give up her life there for a mansion in Chicago.

Miss Jones has shot many deer and has caught some big muskies and participated in singing a 40 pound musical which she brought to the exposition.

"I think I like to hunt better than to fish," she said Thursday. "We live out in the real woods and the deer and horses can frequently be seen running together. It is not a trick to bag a deer and not far from my home the woods are thick with them. I would not give up that life in the wilds for a mansion in Chicago."

15 Swim Classes Under "YW" Head

BRINGING UP FATHER

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

ONCE again America is demonstrating its athletic ability through its amateur work, and nothing like the British golf tournament, Ouimet and Dolan are predicted to come closest to the top of the Yanks' entrants. Either may win the title. Strangely enough those who were expected to come through for the United States with colors flying higher than the rest, have not advanced. If the cap is not brought back to the states it will be surprising.

Ouimet Is Best Bet

Francis Ouimet is the most probable chance of the Yanks to win the title. MISSOURI GIRL
BEST ALL AROUND

Chicago—Miss Gladys Jones of Eagle River, Wis., Thursday was awarded first honors in competition of all around outdoor girls at the national outdoor life exposition. She, in the judgment of the judges, can outrun and outfish any of her rivals. Incidentally, Miss Jones loves the northern Wisconsin country and declared she would not give up her life there for a mansion in Chicago.

Miss Jones has shot many deer and has caught some big muskies and participated in singing a 40 pound musical which she brought to the exposition.

"I think I like to hunt better than to fish," she said Thursday. "We live out in the real woods and the deer and horses can frequently be seen running together. It is not a trick to bag a deer and not far from my home the woods are thick with them. I would not give up that life in the wilds for a mansion in Chicago."

15 SWIM CLASSES

EVANSVILLE NEWS AND BUSINESSRAIL CROSSINGS NEAR COMPLETION

Gates Are Being Put Up at Main Street; North Madison Has Wigwam.

Evansville — Work on the improved railroad crossing at North Madison street has been completed. The street was widened, a double wig-wag signal put in a sign put up, directing traffic to the right. These improvements, together with the gates at the Main street crossing, now being worked on, were ordered by the railroad commission last fall, and were to have been done by March 1.

The standards for gates at the Main street crossing were put in last week. This week the prominent black and white arms will be attached. A man who has been here to work on this, so this crossing also is a danger spot, one where a woman was killed last summer, can be safely crossed.

When you have saved a little money you can do nothing wiser than bring it to this bank and ask for a Certificate of Deposit. It will earn 4% INTEREST if left a year.

Work Under Way on Wood Addition

Evansville — Construction of a new 120-foot frame addition to the plant of the W. E. Wood Butter company started last Saturday, the building to go up directly in the rear of the present plant, near the North-western tracks, on the railroad approach to the city from the east. It will be two stories in height and work has already progressed so well that completion is promised by early July.

Twenty men are at work on the project, which involves some $30,000 for the building alone. Machinery costing several thousand will be installed later.

The concern supplies a large territory with creamery goods of all kinds, also handling 18,000 head of poultry, and producing ice cream and butter. It is an old Evansville concern which has been here for years.
